

Early Childhood Development and Care A.A.S. Degree Map

● CAREER DEGREE M MIDDLETOWN CAMPUS

A Day in the Life ...

Working in a preschool or childcare center, you will shape the lives of young children. As a strong early childhood professional, you will work closely with children and their families to provide play-based learning that supports the development of the whole child. You will have the opportunity to nurture young children as they imagine, experiment and discover new concepts daily.

Three Reasons to Consider Early Childhood Development and Care

1. Experienced faculty members, with classroom teaching experience provide students with extensive support in achieving learning goals.
2. You will have many observation hours in local childcare centers, which bring classroom instruction to life.
3. You will have access to developmentally appropriate early childhood instructional materials, which are integrated into college classes in our Hands-on Learning Laboratory.

Keep This in Mind

EDU 203 (Fall semester only) and EDU 204 (Spring semester only) are our “student teaching” courses, and are designed to be taken sequentially during your final academic year in the program.

Students will engage in nearly 250 hours of field work during the course of the program. A background check, medical clearances, and fingerprinting may be required.

Students in this program often successfully enter the workforce immediately after graduation.

Students will create a professional teaching portfolio, which will be useful at job interviews.
