A Day in the Life ...

The Associate in Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree program in Criminal Justice-Police is aimed at students who do not anticipate continuing their studies at a four-year institution because they envision themselves entering the workforce directly upon graduating. Some of the career opportunities in the justice system include police officer, corrections officer, sheriff, dispatcher, court officer, parole officer and probation officer. The AAS in criminal justice program will provide students with the opportunity to earn the college credits that many law enforcement agencies require for entry level positions while providing them with a strong academic foundation for career success.

Three Reasons to Consider Criminal Justice-Police

1. The SUNY Orange teaching faculty are well credentialed and possess practical experience that they bring to the classroom in all areas of the justice system.
2. Many of our alumni are currently enjoying careers in the New York State Police, the New York City Police Department, New York State Corrections, the Orange County Sheriff's Department, and numerous other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies throughout the country. A few of our graduates are also practicing attorneys and hold positions in corporate and industrial security firms.
3. Our internship program allows students to engage in experiential learning with our local partners in the criminal justice system and is invaluable in providing students with a close-up view of law enforcement and its real-life challenges.

Keep This in Mind

Students should register for courses as early as is practical. This will give them more flexible scheduling options.

Students should visit the Department of Criminal Justice offices on the Middletown campus (Hudson Hall Room 103) or the Newburgh campus (Tower Building Room 317) and pay particular attention to the bulletin boards which often contain career information and civil service exam announcements.

Students should consider joining the SUNY Orange Criminal Justice Club, which meets on the Newburgh and Middletown campuses. Clubs regularly visit police academies, sheriff's departments, courts, and other law enforcement locations.
